This month, we're highlighting:

GRAIN BREWERY

Established in 2006 in barns at South Farm, Alburgh, with Oak as the first beer, Grain Brewery has since grown and grown.

In 2024, the brewery revived the Blessing of the Barley Queen, an East Anglian folk tradition, as part of a project to grow and malt its own barley for beer made in Alburgh. Brewery owner Phil Halls described the idea as celebrating the area's farming community and creating a beer that is "born in Alburgh, brewed in Alburgh."
